

Rakesh Bedi finalised in Metti Oli remake

Rakesh Bedi has been finalised to play a father of five daughters in UTV's new untitled soap. Annu Kapoor was also one of the contenders for the role. A remake of the south hit Metti Oli, it is slated to be aired by June-end on Sony. Bedi, who has hitherto played comic characters in films and serials like Yeh Jo Hai Zindagi, Ghar Ki Ek Baat will be essaying a dramatic role for the first time on TV. Metti Oli is about five girls who grow up under their father's care and affection after their mother's death. The story revolves around the lives and pains of his five daughters. The girl who plays the elder daughter also has a pivotal role and a known face is being considered for the role. The other four sisters will be played by newcomers.
