Actor Chitrangda Singh seems to be the new agony aunt in Bollywood. The actor who recently appeared on a reality show revealed that she had reconciled a warring couple that was fighting for quite a long time.

"If next time around, any B-Town celebrity has an issue to be solved, we guess one can turn to Chitrangda. At least that's what it seems from what she revealed in the upcoming episode of Superstar Santa. She said that she really wanted to get the couple to reconcile with each other and hence hatched a plot," says an official of the TV channel.

According to the channel official, Chitrangda said that she almost worked like a professional while trying to make the couple reconcile. "Chitrangda was certain to dig deep into the case she was responsible for. She even went out of her way to make sure that she sketched out a well-thought plan to reconcile the two parties in question! But what was more interesting, was her opinion on how one needs to handle something as fragile as a relationship with people," the official added.

According to Chitrangda, most relationships get over if one tends to brood over one's mistakes. On speaking about what would she do if one had made a mistake and then repent later, she said, "It's human to make mistakes, but it isn't as easy for one to forget them," she said.

When questioned if forgiving people for what they did wrong was an option at all, she added, "Everyone deserves a second chance, no matter what they do." It would be interesting to know what certain people have to say to this.
